

L.E. Froom

to

Pastor R.H. Adair

April 10, 1967.

[excerpt]

And I still say that this book [Questions on Doctrine], despite all the problems, have done more to unify us on the Deity of Christ, on His sinlessness during the Incarnation, and on the two phases on the Atonement, than anything that has come out. It has a higher standing today, although there are still some, of course, who are antagonistic and bitter in their attitudes.

[excerpt]